

NATIONAL WEATHER SERVICE
BINGHAMTON, NY

2022 STUDENT VOLUNTEER PROGRAM

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Provide students with a basic understanding of the mission, duties and structure of the NWS

- See first hand how your education is applied to operational meteorology
- Gain insight on NWS forecasting practices and policies
- Experience real-time severe weather operations
- Opportunities to participate in storm damage surveys, outreach events and NWS seminars
- Participate in operationally focused research project

PROGRAM DETAILS

Volunteer program is 16-24 unpaid hours per week from early June through mid August. Schedule will have the flexibility to work around school/job.

Note: COVID-19 restrictions may prevent in person activities at NWS Binghamton, which would impact some of the program objectives listed above. It is possible that the student will have to experience the entire program remotely.

ELIGIBILITY

Full time college students with a declared major in Meteorology, Atmospheric Science or Hydrology.

Preference will be given to students completing at least their sophomore year this spring with an interest in future NWS employment¹. You do not need to receive credit through your academic institution to be eligible².

APPLICATION PROCESS

Submit a complete application by March 11, 2022 (incomplete applications will not be considered)

- Complete this online application (<https://forms.gle/o1Jck77vcX7jPeGWA>)
- Submit copies of your resume and unofficial transcripts at the end of the online application (Google account required) or email them to Bryan.Greenblatt@noaa.gov
- After March 11, applications will be reviewed by NWS staff and video interviews will be conducted with the top candidates in late March
- Applicants will be notified of their status by early April

For More information contact Bryan Greenblatt, program leader, NWS Binghamton at Bryan.Greenblatt@noaa.gov

¹ Participation in program does not guarantee future NWS employment

² Graduating seniors will need to receive academic credit to be eligible